Every effort has been made to ensure that the information contained in this report is accurate as of September 30, 2017; however, the Fund cannot guarantee the accuracy or the completeness of this material. Please refer to the Fund's Simplified Prospectus and audited annual financial statements for more information.

CAUTION ON FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report may contain forward-looking statements which reflect our current expectations or forecasts of future events. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or include words such as: "expects", "anticipates", "intends", "plans", "believes", "estimates", "preliminary", "typical" and other similar expressions. In addition, these statements may relate to future corporate actions, future financial performance of a fund or a security and their future investment strategies and prospects. Forward-looking statements are inherently subject to, among other things, risks, uncertainties and assumptions which could cause actual events, results, performance or prospects to differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, these forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and assumptions include, without limitation, general economic, political and market factors in North America and internationally, interest and foreign exchange rates, the volatility of global equity and capital markets, business competition, technological change, changes in securities legislation, changes in government regulations, changes in tax law, unexpected judicial or regulatory proceedings, catastrophic events and the ability of Counsel Portfolio Services Inc. to attract or retain key employees. The foregoing list of important risks, uncertainties and assumptions is not exhaustive. Please consider these and other factors carefully and do not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

The forward-looking information contained in this report is current only as of the date of this report. There should not be an expectation that such information will in all circumstances be updated, supplemented or revised whether as a result of new information, changing circumstances, future events or otherwise.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 14, 2017

This Interim Management Report of Fund Performance is intended to present the significant factors and developments that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook since March 31, 2017, the Fund's last fiscal year-end. For information on the Fund's longer-term performance, please refer to the Past Performance section of the report. In this report, "Counsel" refers to Counsel Portfolio Services Inc., the manager of the Fund.

In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund or a series as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of the Fund's Series A securities is discussed below. The performance of all other series offered by the Fund is shown in the Past Performance section of this report. Series returns may differ for a number of reasons, including if the series was not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period and because of different levels of fees and expenses charged to each series. Please refer to the Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by each series.

During the 6-month period, the Fund's Series A securities returned 1.77% (after deducting fees and expenses). This compares with a 1.68% return of a blended index comprised of 20% FTSE TMX Canada Bond Universe Index (returned -0.75%) and 80% MSCI World Index (returned 2.27%) (the "Blended Index"). All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, none of which are reflected in the index returns.

The Fund underperformed the broad-based MSCI World Index, which returned 2.27%. The broad-based index is comprised of global equities and has no exposure to fixed income securities, whereas the Fund invests in both equity and fixed-income securities. Given the Fund's composition, the Blended Index provides a more meaningful comparison for relative performance.

The Fund outperformed the Blended Index primarily due to the Fund's high yield fixed income allocation which outperformed the bond index due to its overweight allocation in Real Estate, along with positive security selection in the Financials sector. The Fund's partial U.S. dollar hedge contributed to returns as well. This was partially offset by the funds holding in Counsel Global Low Volatility Equity, which underperformed the broader MSCI World.

Cyclical sectors outperformed defensive sectors over the period; to which Counsel Global Low Volatility Equity's underweight position in Technology and overweight positions in Consumer Staples and Healthcare were detractors to the performance.

In April 2017, the Fund's effective target hedge against the U.S. Dollar ("USD") was re-established ranging from 50% to 65% during the period. During the 6-month period, the Canadian dollar ("CAD") appreciated 7.24% against the USD; as a result, the currency hedge contributed to the Fund's performance. Over the period, the Fund has been generally unhedged against international currencies other than the USD. During the period, the CAD appreciated by 1.27% against a broad basket of international currencies, as weighted in the MSCI EAFE index. As a result, the Fund's non-USD currency exposures have had a negative performance impact on the Fund.

Net Assets

The Fund's NAV increased by $15.1 million, or 39.0%, to $53.8 million as at September 30, 2017, from $38.7 million at March 31, 2017. Of this increase, $14.2 million was attributable to net sales and $0.9 million due to investment performance (after deducting fees and expenses).

Certain other investment products managed by Counsel's affiliates have large investments in the Fund, see Other Related Party Transactions for details. As a result of these investments, the Fund is subject to large transaction risk as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus. Counsel manages this risk to reduce the possibility of any adverse effect on the value of the Fund or on its investors, through such processes as requiring advance notice of large redemptions.

Fees and Expenses

The Management Expense Ratio ("MER") for Series A of 2.51%, during the period ended September 30, 2017, was lower than the MER of 2.64% for the year ended March 31, 2017. The decrease was due to reductions in the MERs of underlying equity funds due to their reduced usage of exchange traded funds. The MERs (before and after waivers or absorptions, if any) are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report.

Recent Developments

During the period, the Bank of Canada raised its key policy interest rate twice, both in 25 basis point increments, with the rate now at 1.0%. Expectations within the market are for a third rate hike by mid-2018 at the latest. Rate increases are also well underway in the U.S., where the Federal Reserve is implementing a plan to reduce money supply by selling treasury bonds back into the market. In contrast, the European Central Bank continues to hold its interest rate at 0% but has opened the door to winding down its stimulus program.

Counsel reduced the Fund's exposure to high yield bonds during the period. While the outlook for high yield is mildly positive, we are slightly more cautious on the fundamentals given the rising interest rate environment in North America. Volatility in the financial markets has been exceptionally low, and high yield markets are overvalued in the manager's view.

The global economy was stronger than expected for the first half of 2017 and a growth rate of 2.5% to 3.0% is a possible range ending the year for 2017. With an expected recovery in global earnings due to an improving growth backdrop and an earnings rebound in sectors such as energy, commodities and financials as sector specific fundamentals improve, equities are expected to generate positive returns for the remainder of 2017. However, uncertainties fueled by political controversies in the U.S. and policy paralysis may negatively affect consumer and business confidence. In addition, the new U.S. administration has been unsuccessful in implementing its policy agenda and further negative impacts could materialize from renegotiations of the NAFTA agreement.

Other issues that may potentially affect equity markets negatively include, expected reductions in monetary policy support from global central banks for the remainder of 2017 and beyond, political risks in Europe and globally most notably related to tensions in North Korea, ongoing uncertainty over the impact of Brexit and potentially slower growth in China for the remainder of 2017.

The Fund currently has a partial USD target effective hedge. The USD hedge is dynamic and may vary between 0-100% at Counsel's discretion based on its assessment of currency market conditions. It is expected that, in the near term, the Fund will maintain the current hedge. The Fund is expected to remain generally unhedged against currencies other than the USD for the foreseeable future.

Related Party Transactions

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to Counsel at the annual rates specified under Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Simplified Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, Counsel pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

Series Private Wealth securities are issued on a prospectus-exempt basis to investors in the IPC Private Wealth program offered by IPC Securities Corporation, an affiliate of Counsel. At September 30, 2017, Series Private Wealth investors owned 5.2% of the Fund's NAV. As of September 30, 2017, Counsel had not received notice of any large redemptions. All related party transactions are based on the NAV per security on each transaction day.

The Fund did not rely on an approval or positive recommendation from the Counsel Funds' Independent Review Committee ("IRC") with respect to any related party transactions. The Fund has relied on standing instructions from the IRC with respect to asset re-allocations.

Management Fees

The Fund's management fees were used by the Manager to pay for: costs of managing the investment portfolio; providing investment analysis and recommendations; making investment decisions; the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio; and providing other services. The Manager also used the management fees to fund commission payments and other compensation (collectively, "Distribution Related Payments") paid to the dealers and brokers for securities of the Fund bought and held by investors.

The following dealers, who are affiliated with Counsel, may be entitled to Distribution Related Payments from Counsel on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation, Investors Group Financial Services Inc., and Quadrus Investment Services Ltd.

During the period, approximately 41% of the total management fee revenues received from all Counsel funds were used to fund Distribution Related Payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such Distribution Related Payments for the Fund represented 49% of the management fees paid. This amount is an average percentage of the management fees paid by all series. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions and sales commissions paid for that series. The higher proportion of Distribution Related Payments is primarily attributable to commissions related to sales of redemption charge securities of the Fund.

Series Information

The Fund may issue an unlimited number of securities for each series. The number of issued and outstanding securities of each series is disclosed in Financial Highlights. A 10-year history of the major changes affecting the Fund can be found in the Fund's Annual Information Form, available at www.counselservices.com.

	Date of Inception	Minimum Investment ($)	Management Fee ⁸ (%)	Administration Fee ⁸ (%)
Series A ¹	January 7, 2016	1,000	2.00	0.25
Series D ^{2,4,5,9}	January 7, 2016	1,000	0.95	0.15

² A negotiable advisory or asset-based fee (plus sales taxes) is payable by investors to their dealer(s) in connection with the securities held in this series. The fee may be collected by Counsel from the investor's account through redemption of securities and remitted to the dealer at the investor's request. Alternatively, the dealer may collect it directly from the investor. Investors in this series may be eligible for a management fee reduction subject to meeting certain requirements as discussed in the Fund's Simplified Prospectus.

³ The management fee for this series is 0.95% and is payable directly to Counsel generally through the monthly redemption of securities.

⁵ Securities of this series are not subject to sales charges or redemption charges.

⁶ There are no management fees for Series Private Wealth. An investor must enter into an agreement to participate in the IPC Private Wealth Program and agree to pay certain asset-based fees. Prior to November 21, 2016, this series was called Series P.

⁹ As of October 27, 2017 Series D securities were renamed Series F securities.

Past Performance

The indicated rates of return are the historical annual compound total returns, including changes in NAV per security and assuming reinvestment of all distributions. They do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional sales charges, or income taxes payable by any investor that would have reduced returns. The past performance of the Fund is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future.

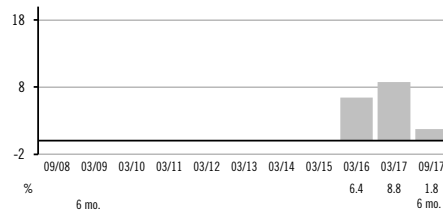

If you hold this Fund outside of a registered plan, income and capital gains distributions paid to you increase your income for tax purposes, whether paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities. The amount of reinvested taxable distributions is added to the adjusted cost base of the securities that you own. This would decrease your capital gain or increase your capital loss when you later redeem from the Fund, thereby ensuring that you are not taxed on this amount again. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your personal tax situation.

Year-by-Year Returns

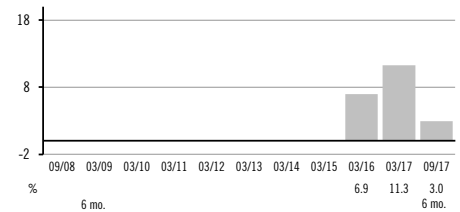

The bar chart shows how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have increased or decreased by the end of the respective periods. For the first year of a series, the percentage shown will be the actual return of the series from its inception date, which can be found under Series Information. The chart illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed over time.

² The net assets per security presented here and in the financial statements and this table may differ from the NAV per security.

⁴ Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both.

Where the Fund invests in securities of an Underlying Fund, the MERs and Gross MERs presented for the Fund include the portion of MERs of the Underlying Fund(s) attributable to this investment.

⁷ The portfolio turnover rate ("PTR") indicates how actively the portfolio advisor manages the investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher PTR in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high PTR and the performance of the Fund. Costs incurred to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, are excluded from the PTR.
